

Assa Coin Lock

Performance

Assa Coin Lock is a mechanical lock for cupboards. The locks are available for use with the majority of coins and tokens. The lock can be provided with a coin return tray or a coin collecting box.

The Coin Lock can be ordered for right- or lefthanded lockers. A range of cylinders are available, covering different demands of material thickness and security levels. The cylinder can be master keyed. The lock can be made for use in different environments:

Dry Areas: Lock case of polycarbonate, cylinder of chromated brass, keys of nickelplated brass, hookbolt and the remaining unspecified components of yellow cromated steel

Wet Areas(corrosive environments): Lock case of polycarbonate, cylinder of chromated brass, keys, hook bolt and the remaining unspecified components of nickel plated brass.

Function

When the correct coin is inserted the door can be locked and the key can be removed.

When the lock is opened with the key the coin passes through into 1)the return tray and the user removes the coin – or 2)into the coin collecting box if a charge is being made for use of the locker.

Assa Coin Lock is designed so that the key always remains captive in the lock after use, available for a new visitor.
